

MARGARET PAGE INTRODUCTION

In the last decade, the popularity of Etiquette programs has exploded.
Why?

Executives, managers and professionals around the globe
Are recognizing the modern value
Of social grace.

Rules of etiquette were never meant to be Tools to critique others
Or a source of embarrassment

On the contrary!
The only purpose of Etiquette is to facilitate a smooth, pleasant experience.

When you can be at ease - and put those around you at ease,
That is the highest form of etiquette.

Our speaker today, Margaret Page, is an etiquette consultant and Business Relationship Coach with extensive training and over 30 years of business experience.

Her signature strength is bringing clarity and confidence to those around her.

She's the creator of "the Cognito Etiquette Cards"
and co-author of the book, "Blueprint for Success," with Steven Covey and Ken Blanchard...
